RAMSAY HIGH ERECTED IN
IN MEMORIAM
MR. RAMSA

As graduation day draws near,
We face the future with hope and fear.
Tomorrow is shrouded in a mist of surprise,
But yesterday is clear to nostalgic eyes.
Bewildered frosh, we entered the ivy walls,
We soon made our own these hallowed halls.
The frosh-soph dance, new cheerleaders, majorettes, and officers for our class,
New friends, new teachers, and new subjects to pass.
Sure of ourselves, the sophs returned,
To apply all the wonderful skills we had learned.
We joined athletic teams and clubs galore,
School was a blast, but classes a chore.
Shrewd business-minded juniors, hardworking upperclassmen now,
In our "Undersea" prom and "Dear Phoebe" we showed the others how.
The wonderful moment our class rings at last arrived,
Those days of waiting, how did we survive?
And now we are seniors with futures unknown,
Yet if we remember our friends we are never alone.
For when one door closes another opens wide,
And success and happiness lay inside.

Um-m-m !!

Um-m-m !!

For seven months my dreams, my hopes, my good luck, and the American Field Service worked together real hard.

For seven months I was waiting for the end of their efforts in order to receive the most magnificent present I have ever had in my life--a ticket to the United States.

Is it a reality? Is it a dream? After all these months I am here; I haven't decided yet. The weather, the school, the language, the trees, my tennis racket, my shorthand notebook are saying: "Can't you see? We are really different. We are America."

But the charming people, the friendly smiles on their faces, the funny teasings of my friends, my new parents and sisters are all whispering: "Can't you see? We are the same. We are everything that you have already seen or dreamed. We are a new, but a well-known part of your life."

And these new parts of my life that have made it possible for me to come here by offering such a wealth of happy experiences, lasting friendships, knowledge, and time are the ones that I want to thank.

I want to thank you, my new family, for your kindness and hospitality. I want to thank you, my teachers, for your open mindedness and understanding. Thanks to all my schoolmates for your friendship and cooperation in many ways.

Lastly I want to thank you, American Field Service, because you created this wonderful life and experience in the first place.

And now that the end is here I want to wish all of you good luck or as we say in my country in Greece:

Although they seldom seemed to satisfy,
Few top the profs at Ramsay High.

From the main office came the plans for the year;
They led to success in the classrooms here.

When students needed help with a future plan,
The guidance office was never banned.

This office was also known by a few,
Of our idle students with nothing to do.

Our teachers always tried their best,
To help the students meet the test.

We learned a lot in the classrooms each day,
Where their tolerance and patience seem to pay.

With lectures, questions, tests and review,
Forty minutes of class seemed all too few.

The teachers we learned to appreciate;
Let's hope when we learned, it wasn't too late.

ARE FUN.

School Nurse

This helpful and smiling woman in white
Keeps Ramsay healthy, to our delight.
Under Mrs. Haberlen's watchful glance
The good health of our school will steadily advance.
She can be seen hurrying from school to school
In an emergency, she's calm and cool.
Aiding her in her tasks is her blue car
She makes many trips both near and far.

Custodians

The custodian's job is a tedious one
And his numerous tasks are little fun.
We are fortunate to have three so able
To keep our school sparkling from cellar to gable.
By name they are called Charlie, Gib, and Eddie
When there's work to be done, they're able,
willing, and ready.
Every day, in tasks big and small
They're ready to help the students, one and all.

Our Junior year started with thoughts of activity and fun,

With class play, prom, and banquet we were always on the run.

Our school work though, did not take a back seat,
Combining physics, algebra, and history, this was quite a feat.

We put all our energy in our sale of Christmas
candy,

In conclusion let us say, this year was quite a dandy.

As sophomores we knew that hard work was our fate,

Trying to meet biology deadlines, and fearing we'd be late.

Our Freshman-Sophomore Dance was considered
our show of the year,

This was a stepping stone to our prom which is near.

Next year we'll be upperclassmen, big wheels in the school,

Our experience of the past serves as an important tool.

One hundred eighty-three is the lucky number of our class,

Outnumbering other classes at Ramsay we consider ourselves top brass.

It took us a while to adjust to new customs and rules,

But often accomplishing this we proved ourselves jewels.

Now it's up the ladder leaving this year behind,
A freshman class like this is hard to find.

Sports at Ramsay are something to behold,
The teams are excellent, as you needn't be told.

Football began the year with a bang,
A season of success was won by the gang.

The boys on the team all did their best,
They really stood up to the test.

Fast moving basketball gave us thrills,
Even when we sat on window sills.

The coaches deserve the highest of praise,
For drilling the teams in all those plays.

The cheerleaders full of pep and verve,
Filled the boys with spirit and nerve.

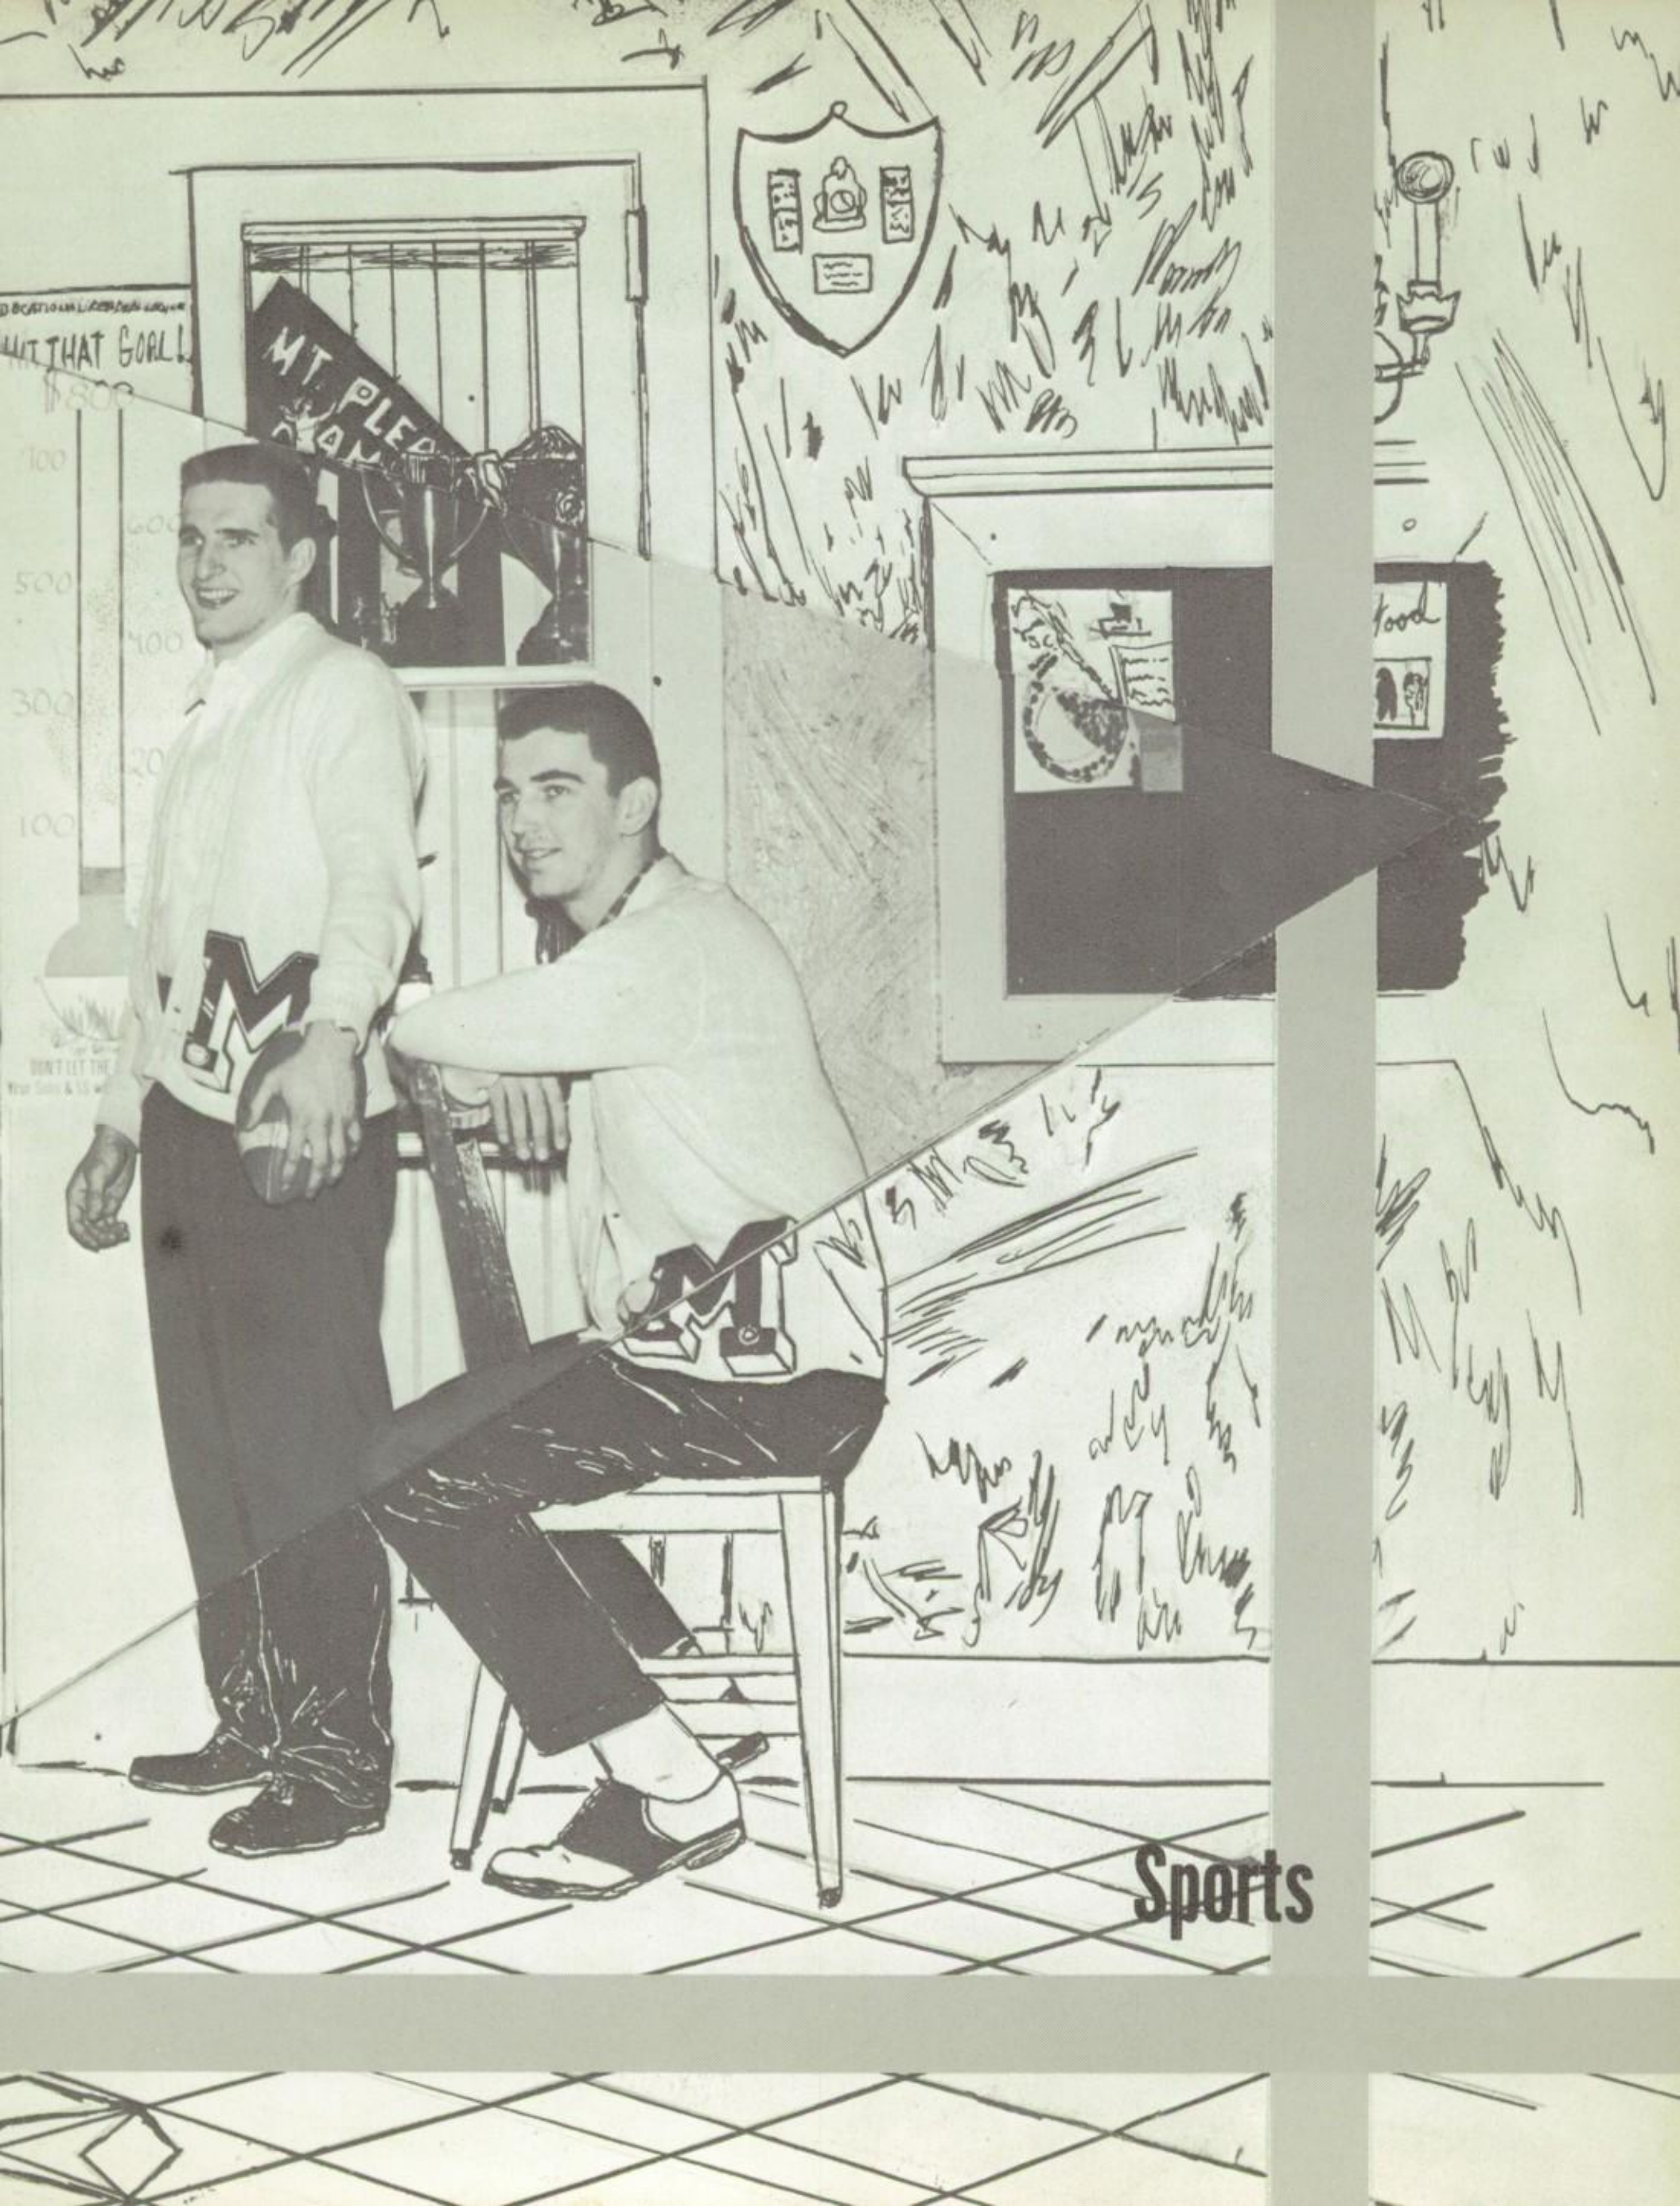

Sports fans all agree on it,
The new Viking teams were really a hit.

From September to March they ruled the world
of sport,
On the football field and basketball court.

Old rivalries were put away,
The red, white and blue were the call of the day.

At the All-Sports Banquet we proudly hailed,
The fighting Vikings who never failed.

HIT THAT GORL!

Homecoming

Jackie Macaluso, Ramsay's Homecoming Queen

1961

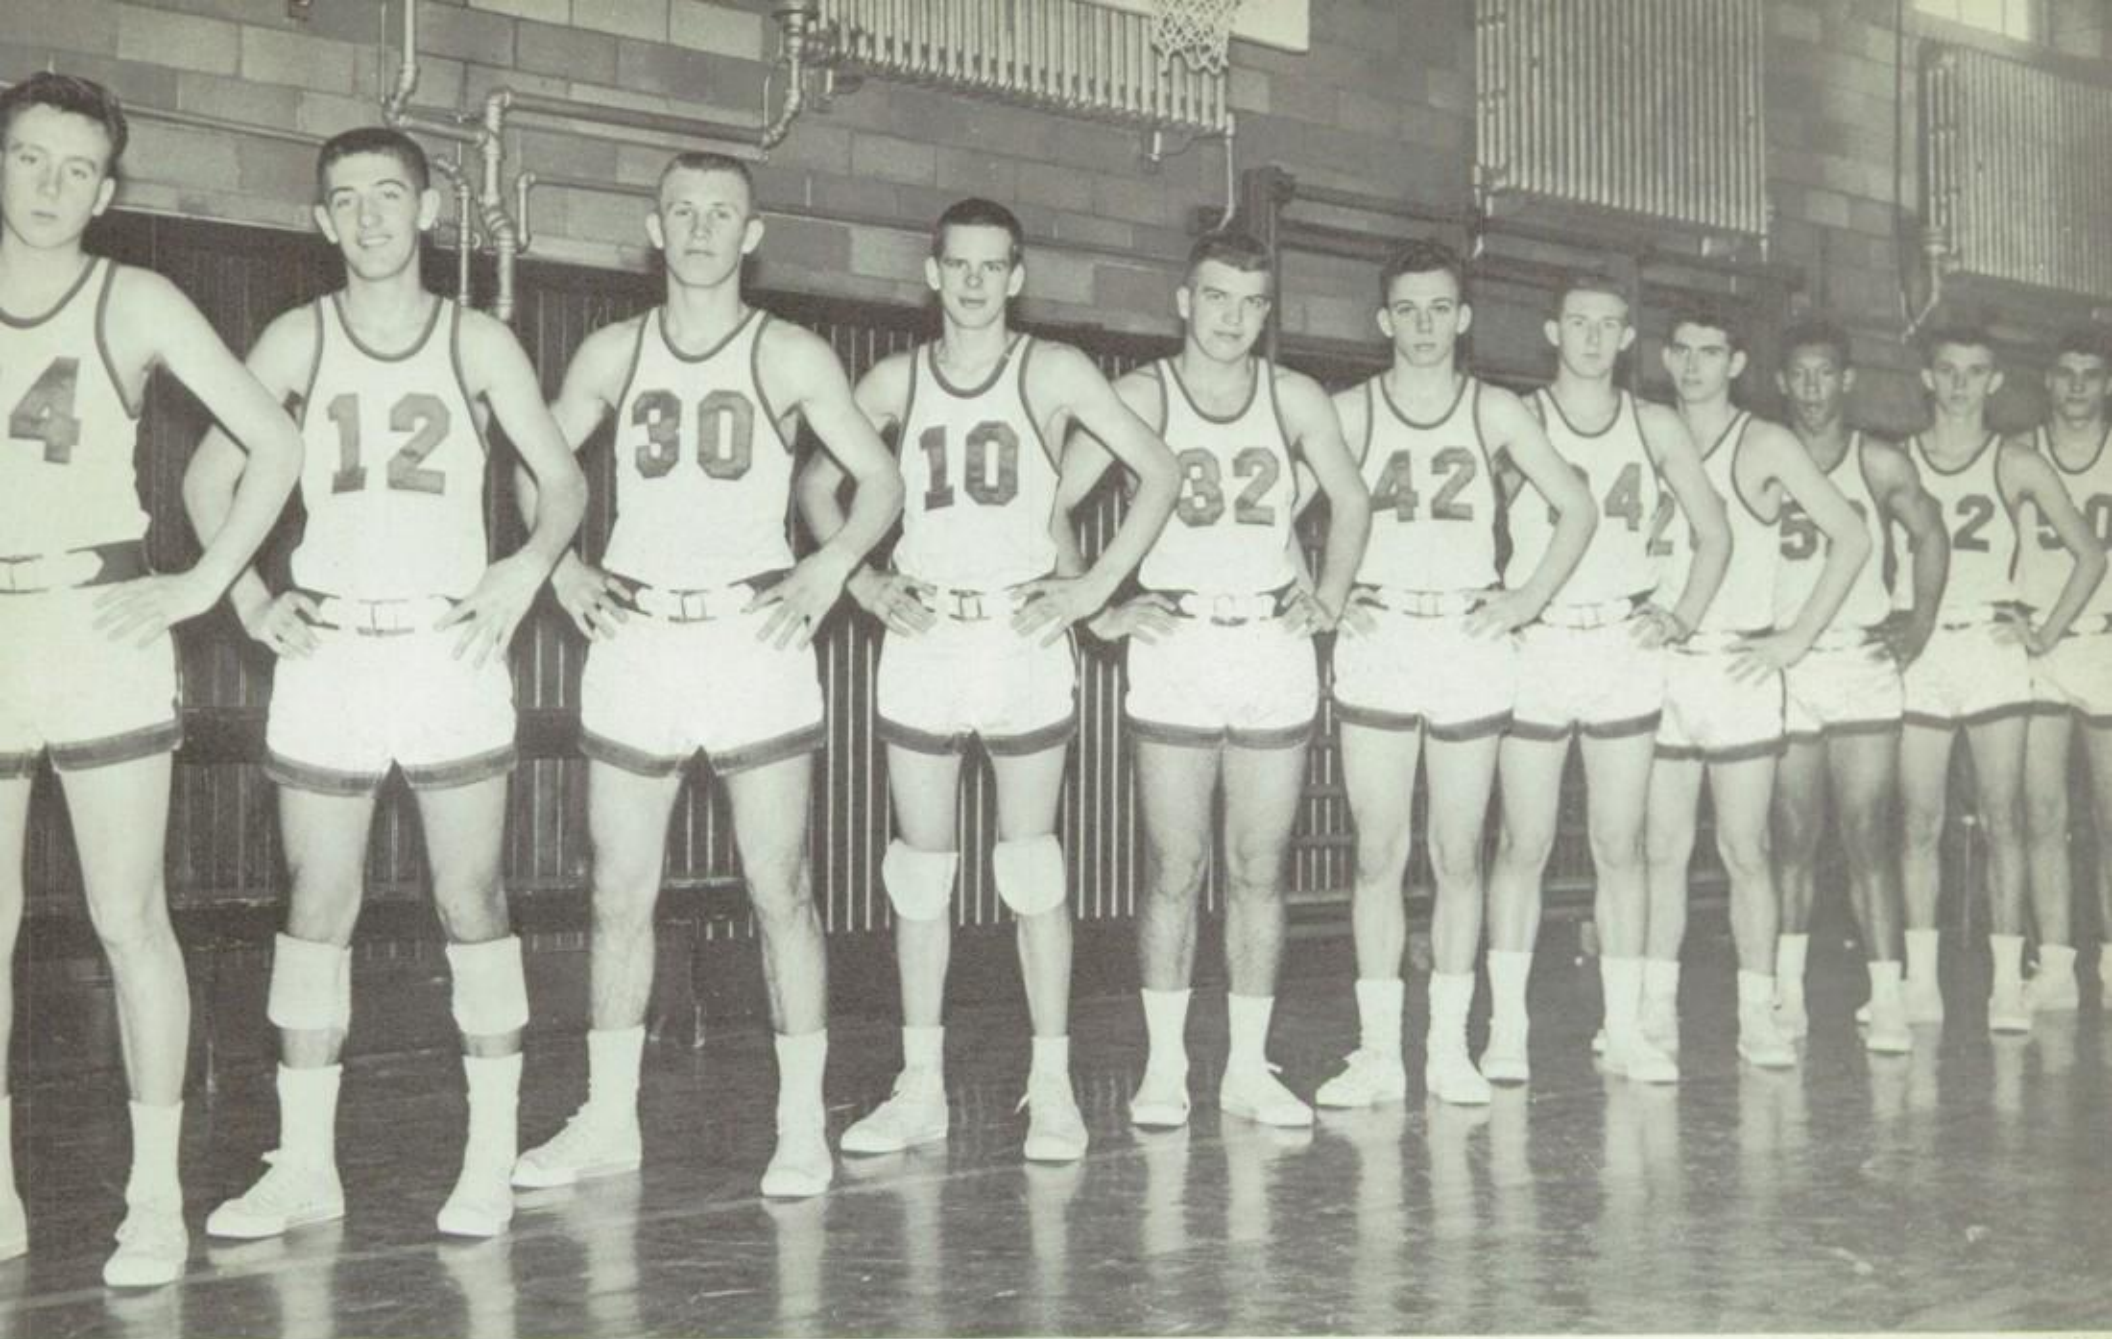

The gridiron season began the school year,
With thoughts of our Homecoming that was so near.
The day was eventful, as well, we remember,
In fact, it took place on the 22nd of September.
Jackie Macaluso was chosen as our Homecoming Queen,
She has beauty and brains, which make an ideal 'teen.'
Five lovely seniors made up her court,
These six girls were an addition to the sport.
To complement Jackie's striking and beautiful pose,
Were Marsha, Anne, Marilyn, Linda, and Rose.
Bouquets of flowers which matched each girl's gown,
Seemed to accent Jackie in her flowered crown.
The half-time performance was the highlight of the game,
And the win over Elizabeth-Forward brought our team fame.

The Junior Varsity Vikings

The Freshman Basketball Team

One, two, cha, cha, cha.

All right, ball, you can come down now.

What are you looking at, Blaine?

The team is in a huddle.

Look, Mom, no stilts.

Watch out! ! Here I come! !

With September air brisk and chilling,
Our bands and team are ready and willing.

During the crisp autumn days of October, we will find,
Ramsay's clubs in a parliamentary sort of mind.

Then November brings with it,
Hope of a class play that will be a hit.

In December it's indoors with our favorite sport,
We see our Vikings on the basketball court.

January finds the students in a state of delusion,
Cramming for exams creates much confusion.

This month of Cupid and valentines enhances,
Thoughts of companionship at our dances.

In March, the students' minds turn toward Easter vacation,
And they eagerly look forward to the Mouny publication.

April brings with it the feeling of spring,
And hopes of each Junior receiving his ring.

Thoughts of the banquet and the prom are in May,
Then finally in June comes Graduation
Day.

We, the seniors think our years at Ramsay
well spent,
And look forward to the coming years'
advent.

Student Life

Art Club

Twice a month the Art Club meets
To accomplish many varied feats.
There are always projects to be done;
Drawing and painting can be much fun.
At the Christmas party they have a ball;
The closing banquet is enjoyed by all.
Since the Art Club keeps busy throughout the year,
The worth of the club is truly clear.

Commercial Club

A popular club with the business world in mind,
Time for numerous activities they somehow find.
Proper dress, behavior and poise are taught,
These qualities are priceless and cannot be bought.
Annually they sponsor a dance—square,
In order to earn a handsome bus fare.
They end the year with a Pittsburgh trip,
And the seniors receive pins for their membership.

This Beacon is a record of our daily school life,
It pictures our joys, our laughter, our strife.
We struggle to meet each monthly deadline,
And beam with delight at each clever headline.
Miss Burge, the faculty advisor of the Beacon,
Cheers and advises us when our spirits weaken.
The hard working staff at Ramsay High,
Composes a paper that the students eagerly buy.

All right, Aunt Phoebe, I'll clean out your pipe.

This is a heck of a place for a pow-wow.

An organization with a noble aim,
Better living is the F. H. A.'s game.
Their activities concern care of the household,
Also child care, and grooming, we are told.
Their sumptuous dinners highlight the year,
And put all the guests in spirits of cheer.
Serving and cooking are their chief occupation,
An annual fashion show adds animation.

F.T.A.

A worthwhile group is the F. T. A.
To better education it lights the way.
Monthly lectures inform each devoted member,
Of facts about the teaching career that are good to remember.

A scholarship is the yearly prize,
For which each senior student vies.
The future of our children is surely secure,
If the teaching profession can such talents lure.

Sopranos, Tenors, Altos and Bases,
In the Ramsay Chorus take their places.
Mr. Somers, their conductor, gives his signal to start,
Each member is ready to sing his own part.
All have rehearsed the part they must fill,
It took hours of practice and vocal skill.
Now voices raised high and blended so well,
Each number they rendered was bound to excel.

Usherettes Club

The Usherettes are called upon a few times each year, Whenever the band concert or class play draws near. They pass out the programs and show folks their seats . . .

Each chooses his task when the club first meets. They dress in dark skirts and blouses of white; So when they're needed they're in plain sight. Although doing the job well is the biggest aim, The usherettes enjoy themselves just the same.

Tri-Hi-Y

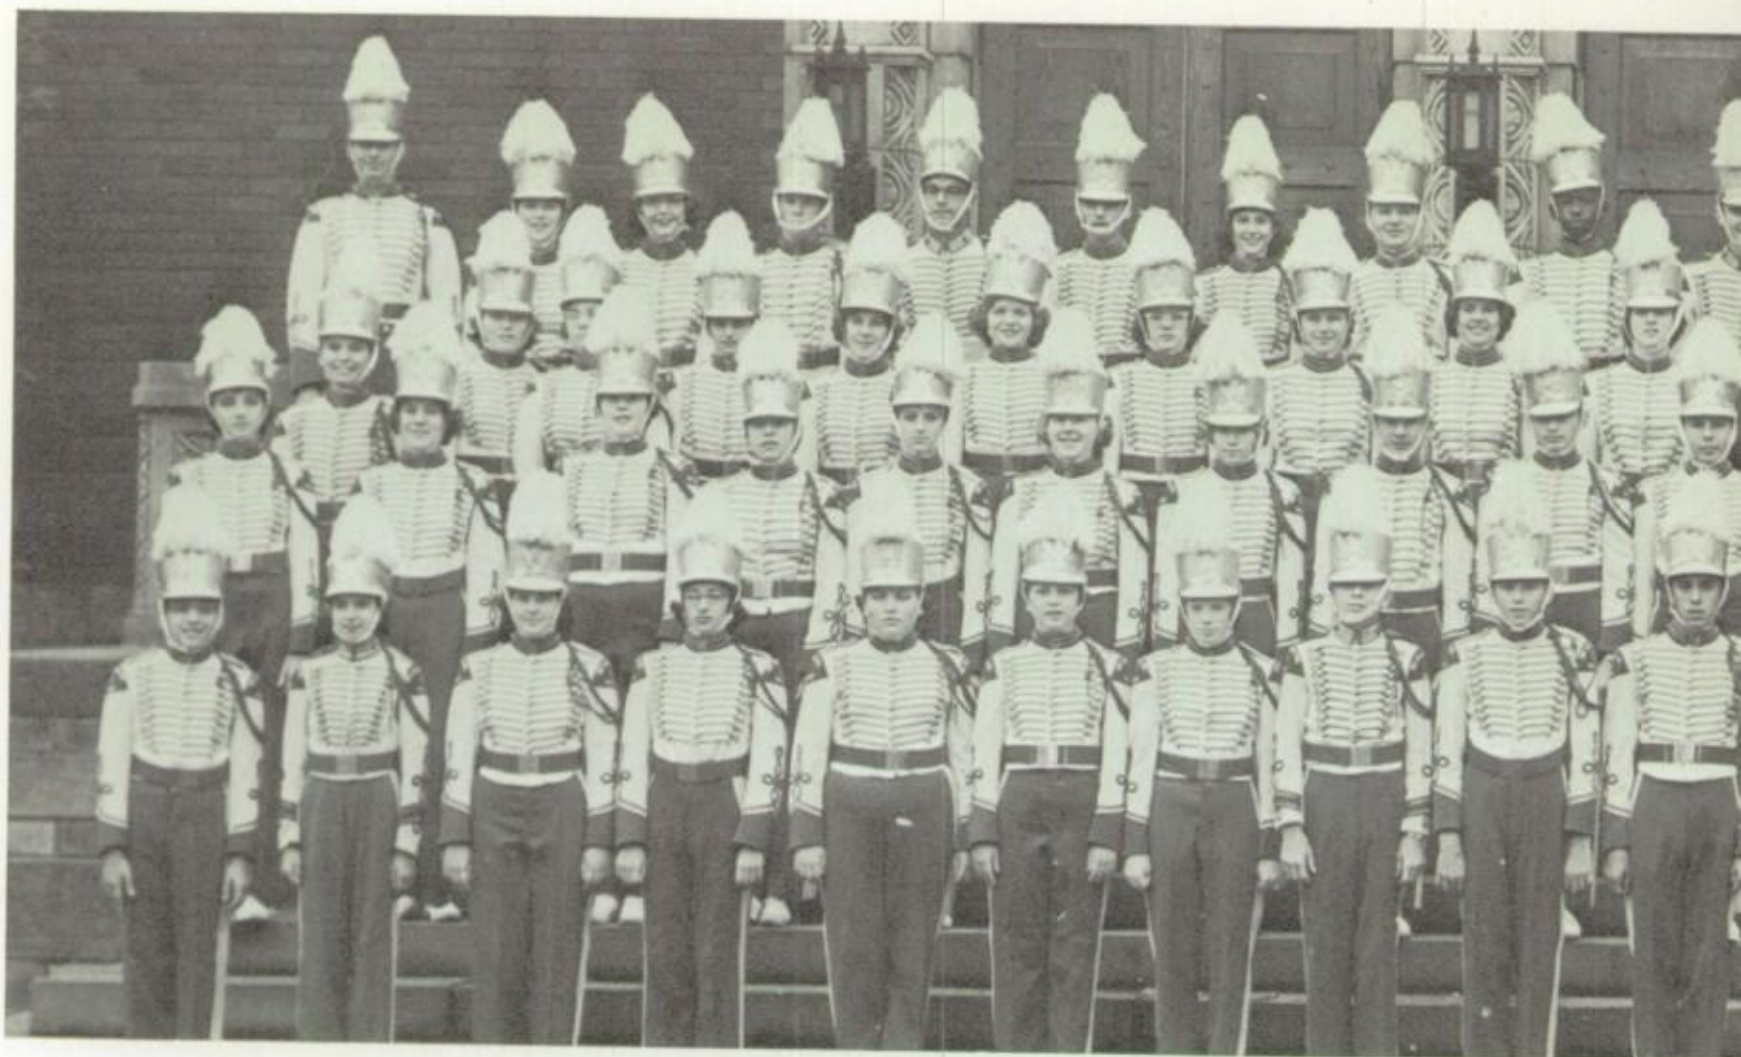

Unity and fellowship we find,
Foremost in each members mind.
Their aim is aid and service for all,
From the orphanage to the hospital.

To enrich the body, mind, and soul.

The work was hard, and sometimes dreary,
Each member was often disgusted and weary.
But Mr. Comfort was a priceless treasure,
And working with the staff was really a pleasure.
Our efforts are completed and the die is cast,
This book is a chronicle of the year that has past.

Hunting and Fishing Club

President, Tom Kiel; Vice President, Hobie Porterfield; Secretary, Richard Farrell; Treasurer, Andy Fornal; Social Chairman, Tom Coleman

This is the newest club at Ramsay High,
It arouses the animal instinct in every guy.
The members of this club are the out-door kind,
Thoughts of hunting and fishing dominate their mind.
They eagerly await the dawn of each season,
For the quest of different game this is the reason.
At discussions, the members acquire new skill,
But the day of the hunt is the biggest thrill.

Seated: R. Blaine, G. Dodd, T. Coleman, T. Kiel, H. Porterfield Standing: R. Farrell, J. Freed, J. Jaquette, J. Ondrako, C. Zimmerman, R. Turner, E. Evans, W. May, G. Ludwig, R. Nedrow, A. Fornal

Industrial Arts Club

The shop boys keep busy working with tools;
 Their projects range from tables to stools.
 They work real hard while in the shop,
 Hammering, nailing and then they stop.
 Again they start and work some more,
 Worrying again how to sink a bore.
 Repair the tools and get things mended,
 And then the shop boys' day has ended.

President, Hobie Porterfield; Vice President, Pat Burns; Treasurer, Ralph Fiesta

Seated: H. Porterfield, P. Hutira, C. Keefe, J. Jaquette, T. Thomas Standing: E. Slaminko, W. May, O. Bell, T. Kiel, C. Zimmerman, M. Brezinski, R. Turner, J. Whetsel, M. Lacey, G. Dodd

when Mimi and Dave were crowned Queen and King of the Cinderella Ball on February 16, 1962?

when Linda and Earl won the Twist Contest at the dance on February 9, 1962?

when Linda Kuhn was crowned queen of the Freshman-Sophomore Dance on April 22, 1960?

when all the couples at the prom were getting their tallies filled for the big evening?

Graduation Day—May 31, 1962?

when we played Elizabeth-Forward on September 22, 1961?

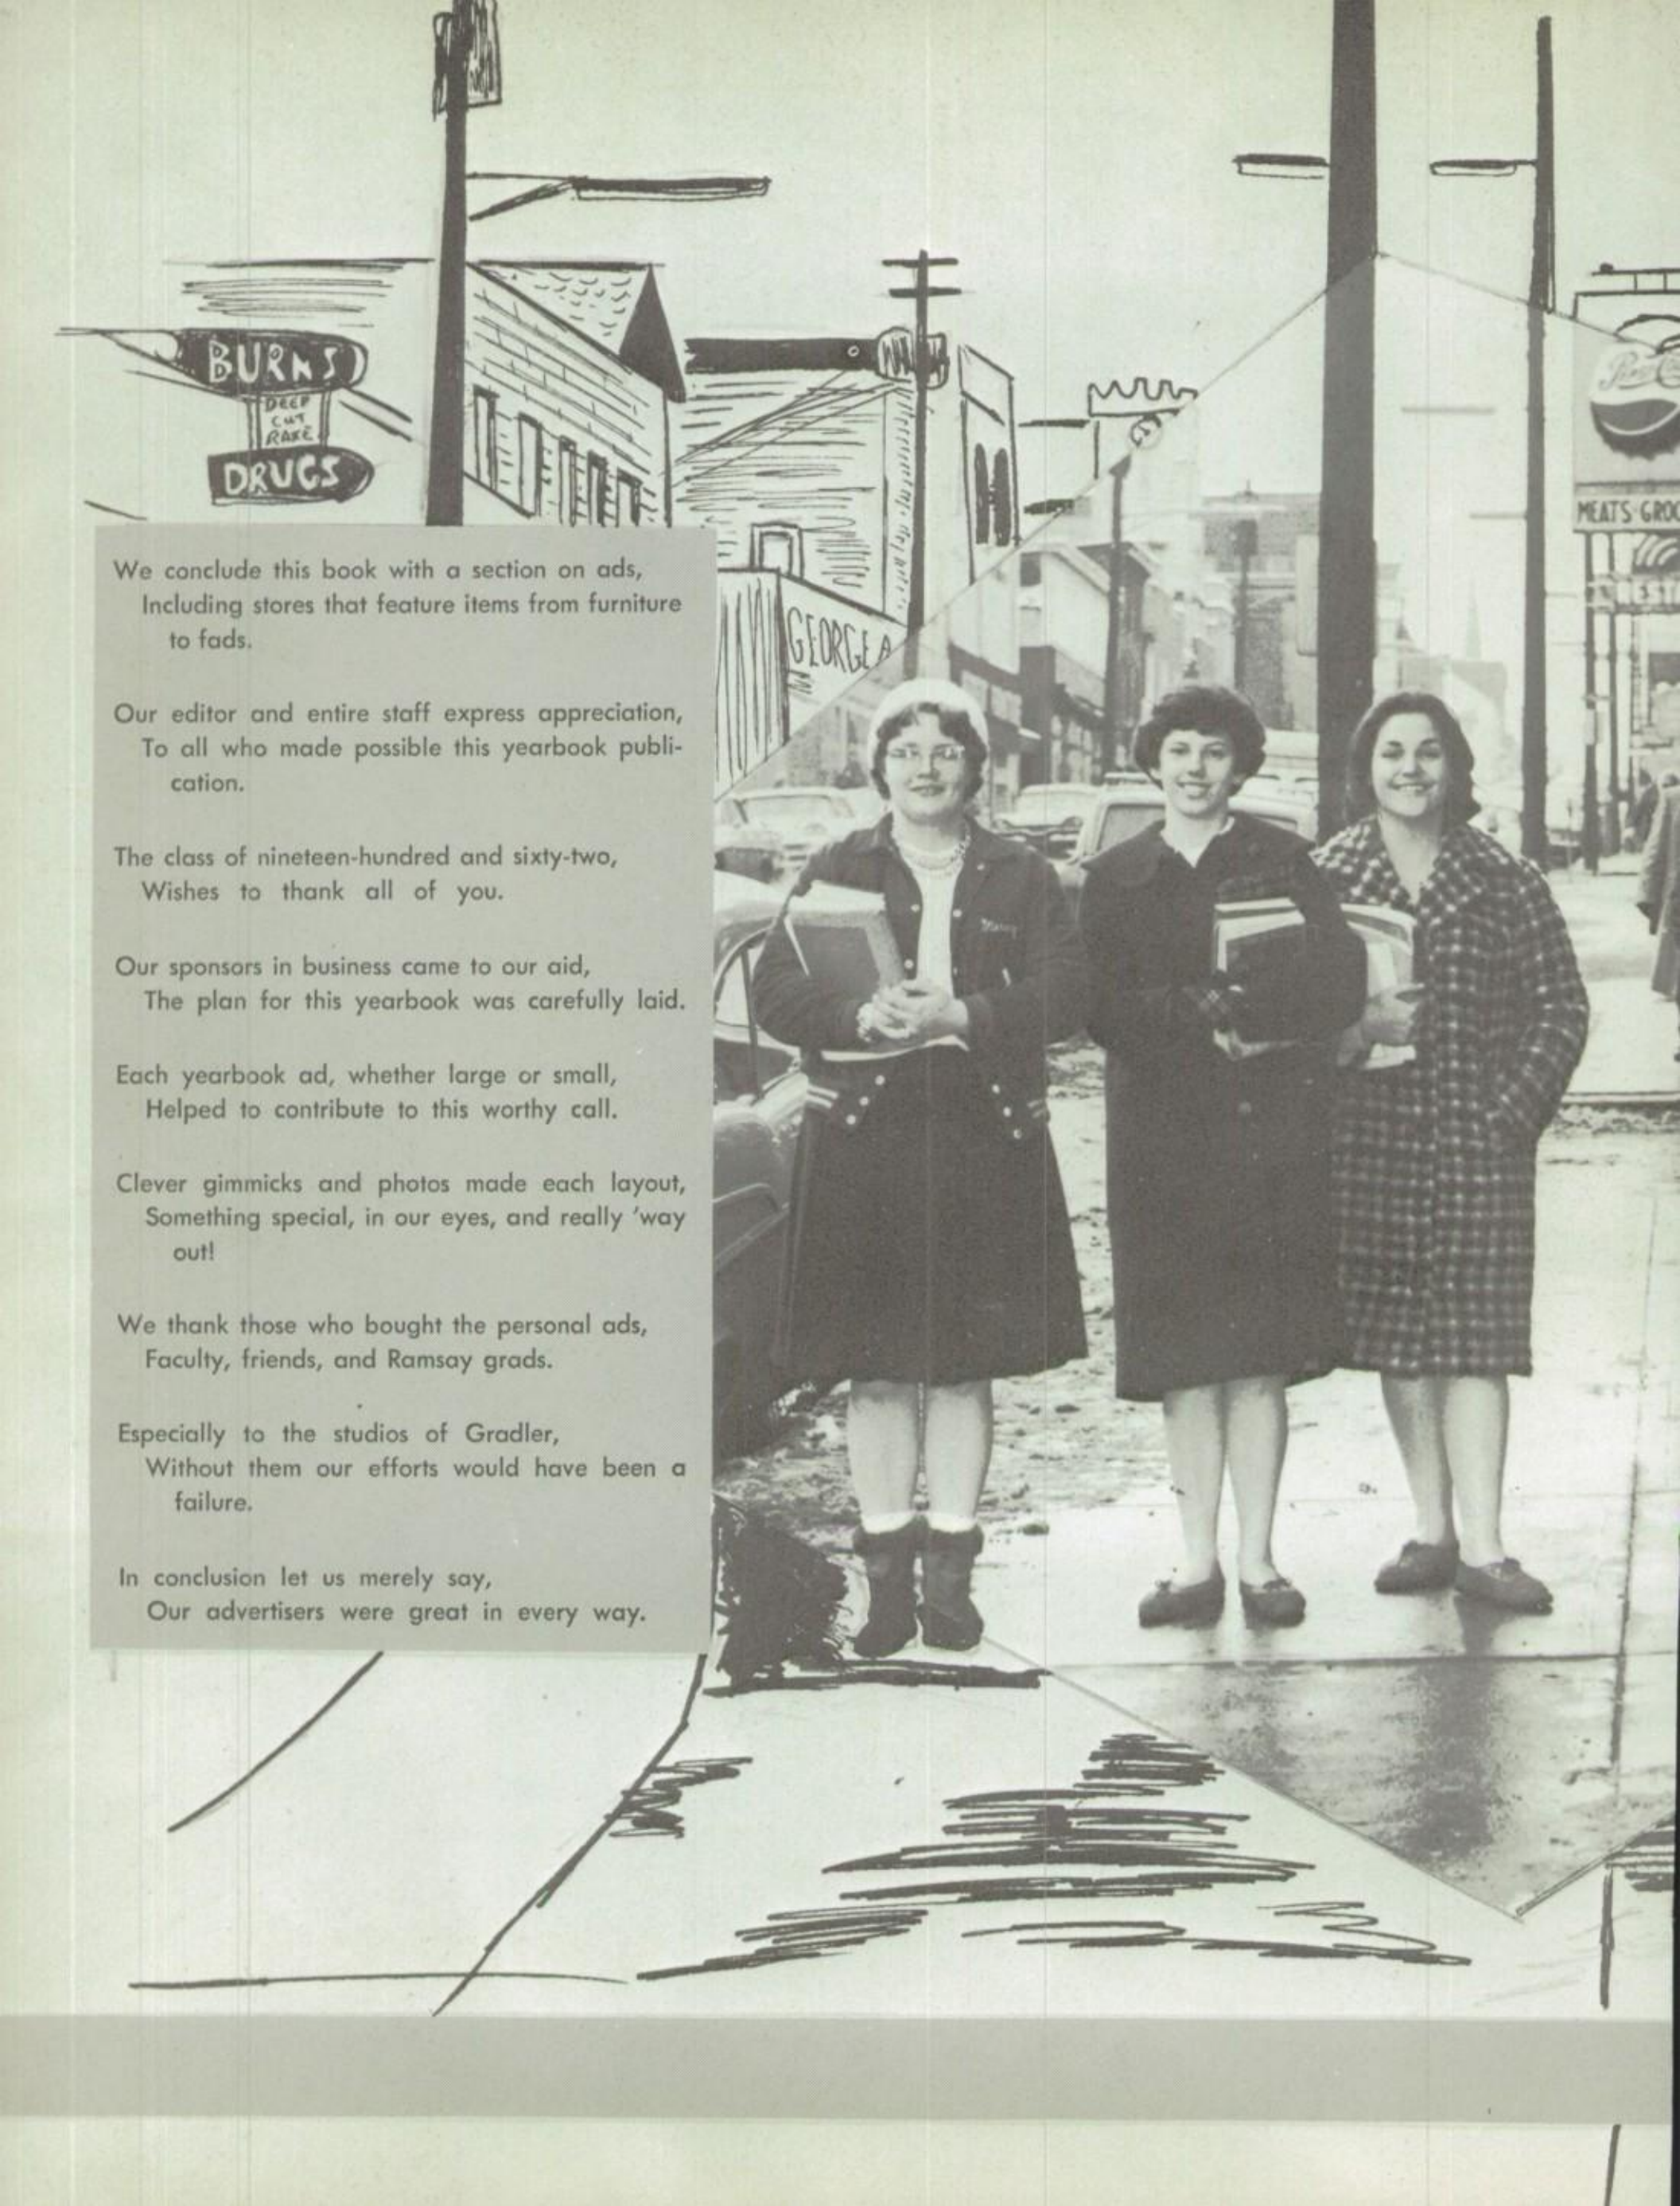

when we played Connellsville in basketball on February 6, 1962?

when Suzy looked like this at the Roaring 20's Dance on February 23, 1962?

the Junior-Senior Prom on May 19, 1961?

We conclude this book with a section on ads,
Including stores that feature items from furniture to fads.

Our editor and entire staff express appreciation,
To all who made possible this yearbook publication.

The class of nineteen-hundred and sixty-two,
Wishes to thank all of you.

Our sponsors in business came to our aid,
The plan for this yearbook was carefully laid.

Each yearbook ad, whether large or small,
Helped to contribute to this worthy call.

Clever gimmicks and photos made each layout,
Something special, in our eyes, and really 'way out!

We thank those who bought the personal ads,
Faculty, friends, and Ramsay grads.

Especially to the studios of Gradler,
Without them our efforts would have been a failure.

In conclusion let us merely say,
Our advertisers were great in every way.

Clif,
To a real Don't

Autographs

Cliff,

We really had some riots, didn't we?

I'm sorry about the Prom and Cinderella ball.
I wish I could have gone - I really missed something.

Stay sweet, just like never - for me.

Kate

take advantage of that. There is no need to wish you luck since you already know all about girl.
